DAY 1

PHOENIX – WINSLOW – FLAGSTAFF

MORNING

Depart Phoenix for Winslow. The drive is 185 miles or 297.7 kilometers.

Visit the Rock Art Canyon Ranch, a working cowboy-run ranch that is home to one of the finest stands of Anasazi petroglyphs in the Southwest. Guests can ask to view the small pioneer-cowboy and Anasazi museums furnished with artifacts found on the ranch.

Tel: (928) 386-5047

The end of Rock Art Ranch Rd, Winslow, AZ 86047

Enjoy lunch at The Turquoise Room in La Posada Hotel in Winslow. Considered by many to be the finest restaurant in the entire Four Corners region, The Turquoise Room was created in 2000 under the direction of renowned Chef John Sharpe who oversees every detail of the preparation and service. The restaurant re-creates the elegant dining experience of the famous Turquoise Room dining car on the Santa Fe Railway's Super Chief that was frequented by Hollywood Stars like Eleanor Powell. Everything was designed for this special setting—leather & wood chairs modeled on a La Posada original, brocade booths of emerald green, Verne Lucero's magnificent chandeliers, and even Tina Mion's stained-glass mural of La Posada patron saints Ysidro, Pascual and Barbara.

Tel: (928) 289-2888

305 E 2nd St, Winslow, AZ 86047

Standing On A Corner Park

Walnut Canyon National Monument

AFTERNOON

Drive approximately 1 hour to Flagstaff to Walnut Canyon National Monument. The drive is 57.5 miles or 92.5 kilometers.

Visit Walnut Canyon National Monument. Hundreds of years ago, the Sinagua Indians arrived at Walnut Canyon with new ideas and skills including masonry. They built more than 300 small cliff rooms in the recesses of the canyon's limestone walls, the ruins of which still stand. The visitor's center and hiking trails are located within the monument. No camping facilities are available in the park, but a picnic area is provided. The main trail involves a climb of 185 ft. on a stairway.

Tel: (928) 526-3367

3 Walnut Canyon Rd, Flagstaff, AZ 86004

EVENING

Check in one of the many accommodations available in Flagstaff or try the Hotel Aspen. The Hotel Aspen is part of the Inn Suites boutique hotel collection and is located on the historic Route 66, less than a mile from downtown Flagstaff. The Hotel Aspen offers a complimentary hot breakfast buffet and an evening social hour. Hotel guests will rest easy on their Pillow-top Cloud 9 Beds.

Tel: (928) 774-7356

1008 E Rte 66, Flagstaff, AZ 86001

Suggested dinner at the 1899 Bar and Grill. Northern Arizona University campus opened its historic North Union doors to a new dining experience in 2011. Called the 1899 Bar and Grill, this upscale restaurant is named after the University's founding year and is a testament to the University's modernization with a nod to its history and roots. The restaurant combines an American bistro with a contemporary Southwest steakhouse and features many foods native to the region. A full bar, with an extensive list of local tap beers and wines, complete this dining experience.

Tel: (928) 523-1899

307 W. DuPont Ave., Flagstaff, AZ 86001

Stroll along the Flagstaff Ale Trail. The Flagstaff Ale Trail is a self-guided, walking tour of local craft breweries and a perfect chance to check out the historic downtown area. Along with a passport (available online), Ale Trail walkers receive a map, special discounts at participating breweries, and passport stamps at each stop along the route of this hand-crafted beer tasting adventure. Breweries along the Ale Trail include Beaver Street Brewing Company, Mother Road Brewery (pictured), and Mogollon Brewing Company. Patrons may arrange a taste and tour in advance.

Location: Multiple

Explore Flagstaff on the Alpine Pedaler Tour. Hit the town and tour local watering holes in true Flagstaff style, when you hop on Alpine Pedaler's 14-passenger, human-powered party on wheels. The "pedaler" is part bicycle, part pub crawl and 100 percent fun. An Alpine Pedaler driver leads all groups, but the passengers must pedal through the streets of historic downtown and Southside Flagstaff. The regularly-scheduled pub crawl goes rain or shine (or snow) and features VIP discounts at nearly a dozen establishments. Tickets for individual seats are available for the weekly pub crawl or guests can rent the entire Alpine Pedaler for an event, private party, or even a progressive dinner. In addition to the traditional pub crawl, the Alpine Pedaler offers monthly downtown restaurant tours.

GRAND CANYON – PAGE

Remember to wear comfortable shoes appropriate for use in and around water, bring a bathing suit as well as a light wind breaker.

MORNING

Depart Grand Canyon for Page, to visit southwestern gems like Lake Powell and Glen Canyon National Recreation Area. The drive is 108.6 miles or 174.7 kilometers. Lake Powell and the encircling Glen Canyon are located in the spectacular high desert of the southwestern United States. The National Park is protected in its natural state by legislation and encompasses over 1,900 square miles of southern Utah and northern Arizona. The cool azure blue waters of Lake Powell meander for 186 miles through majestic sandstone rock formations, towering canyon walls and vibrant red rock buttes. The shoreline is seemingly endless in scope, stretching for nearly 2,000 miles, a distance greater than the entire Pacific coast of the United States. It would take a lifetime of visits to explore all 96 major canyons on this enormous lake. Lake Powell is an oasis, a crystal clear body of water framed by what many consider to be the most breathtaking landscape on earth. The allure of the untamed terrain and surprising solitude invites one back again and again. Today’s visitors find a myriad of recreational activity at Lake Powell. Hikers are free to explore wondrous nature trails, while boaters cruise the lake to explore her mysterious canyons and surrealistic rock formations. Those seeking excitement can skip across the water on jet or water skis and those looking for tranquility can cast a fishing line from the dock or a boat. There’s literally something for everyone at Lake Powell.

Embark on a tour of Lower Antelope Canyon. Approximately 15 minutes east of Page, enter one of the most exciting slot canyons in the Southwest, United States. Over the years, Lower Antelope Canyon has become a favorite gathering place for photographers, tourists, and visitors from around the world. The Navajo name for Lower Antelope Canyon is Hasdeztwazi or “Spiral Rock Arches.” Many years ago, herds of Pronghorn Antelope roamed freely in and around the canyon, which explains the English name. This incredible canyon has been created over many thousands of years by the relentless forces of water and wind, slowly carving and sculpting the sandstone into forms, textures, and shapes which we observe today. The views in Lower Antelope Canyon change constantly as the sun moves across the sky, filtering lights softly across the stone walls. These ever-moving sun angles bounce light back and forth across the narrow canyon’s walls, creating a dazzling display of color, light, and shadow.

Tel: (928) 606-2168

Location: Page, AZ 86040

AFTERNOON

Enjoy a lunch in town or at Jádi To’oh Restaurant at Antelope Marina. Jádi To’oh is Navajo for ‘Antelope Springs.’ The marina is a new, architecturally significant marina on the southwest shores of Lake Powell. Located just seven miles from the City of Page, Arizona, the resort-marina is uniquely positioned within the boundaries of the Navajo Nation and the Glen Canyon National Recreation Area. With its striking architecture, generous use of glass, and southwest design elements, Marina Village adds to the magnificence of its backdrop, while paying homage to Native American culture and the surrounding environment. The result? A Marina unlike any other.

Tel: (928) 645-5900

Location: 537 Marina Parkway, Hwy N22 B, Page, AZ 86040

Head out on a powerboat tour or a truck and walking tour of Upper Antelope Canyon and Navajo Canyon. Antelope Canyon is the most-visited and most-photographed slot canyon in the American Southwest. It is located on Navajo land near Page, Arizona. Antelope Canyon includes two separate, photogenic slot canyon sections, referred to individually as Upper Antelope Canyon or The Crack; and Lower Antelope Canyon or The Corkscrew. Upper Antelope Canyon is called Tsé bighánílíní, “the place where water runs through rocks” by the Navajo. It is the most frequently visited by tourists, due to two considerations. First, its entrance and entire length are at ground level, requiring no climbing. Second, beams (shafts of direct sunlight radiating down from openings in the top of the canyon) are much more common in Upper than in Lower. Antelope Canyon is a popular location for photographers and sightseers, and a source of tourism business for the Navajo Nation. It has been accessible by permit only since 1997, when the Navajo Tribe made it a Navajo Tribal Park. Photography within the canyons is difficult due to the wide exposure range (often 10 EV or more) made by light reflecting off the canyon walls. Entry to Antelope Canyon is restricted to guided tours led by authorized guides.

MORNING

Depart Page for Sedona. The drive is 157.8 miles or 253.9 kilometers. Surrounded by magnificent red rock formations, cooled by the rushing waters of Oak Creek, Sedona offers world-class resorts, inns, restaurants, 40 galleries and hundreds of unique shops. Experience many arts and cultural activities, plus golf, hiking, jeep tours and other adventures in the stunning surroundings. Enjoy mild weather year round. Known worldwide for its red rock beauty, the community of Sedona sits in the heart of Central Arizona, 120 miles north of Phoenix and 30 miles south of Flagstaff. At an elevation of 4500 feet, Sedona enjoys four delightfully mild seasons. The breathtaking natural beauty, climate, and clean air and water combine to make Sedona Arizona's second most popular tourist attraction. Sedona's cultural richness and diversity make it a haven for artists, writers, entrepreneurs and visitors, as well.

AFTERNOON

Arrive in Sedona and enjoy lunch at Orchard Canyon on Oak Creek. Orchard Canyon is located on Oak Creek with seventeen cozy cabins nestled on ten lush acres of organic gardens and apple orchards. It is a scenic treasure that boasts mature sycamore and ash trees, green grass, and a trickling mountain stream running alongside. Views of the red rock cliffs towering above can be enjoyed through the canopy of trees.
